In about four days, at dawn, on the first day of En'kara, in the name of the city, all administrators or Ubars on Gor will greet the sun, welcoming it on the first day of the New Year.

This is the last issue of the NEW VOICE OF GOR of the year 10164 contasta Ar. We will start volume four now - in the year 10165 from the founding of Ar.

In Torvaldsland we have had the Rune-Priest Year 1048. In Port Kar it was the year 45 of the Sovereignty of the Council of Captains. 10164 contasta Ar - that is the year 2054 after the Solk War in the Tahari desert.

Issue 150 it is quiet fitting as we reach the turn of the year. We also produce the milestone edition of the NEW VOICE OF GOR .Later in the edition we produce a history of the NEW VOICE OF GOR.

Four years - that is a very long time for a newspaper. Thank you for the feedback so many of you have provided. Sometimes newspapers and message boards on Gor can get a bit out of touch with the communities they serve. We are working hard to better understand our audience and to deliver a valuable product to you on a regular basis.

I hope all of you will continue to reach out to us any time with feedback or questions. We love hearing from our readers. Your feedback encourages us and helps us remain connected and focused on your needs.

03 [OOC] FROM ROLE-PLAY TO BESTSELLER?

Interview with Verona Lorgsval (a.k.a. Victoria Osborne), former editor of the "Voice of Gor" taken from Nu Vibez Magazine February 2014 [<http://www.nuvibezmag.com/>]

(...) The Voice of Gor. I ran that newspaper for nearly three years. It became one of the most read papers in Second Life and the largest paper. Many people have asked me, why Gor: It certainly isn't because I agree with John Norman's portrayal of women, I just found der greater diversity of personalities, and some gorgeous builds all over Gor. The fact that what happened on one sim could impact what happened on another sim. I wanted to create a paper that would let everyone know, in character, what was going on in other cities.

I just kept at it, and was available and learned to delegate. I had a business partner to help me out. Willow Jenipe joined me at the paper when it still was in Vonda. Together we helped to create a more cohesive and unified Gor. Even people outside of Gor were reading the paper just to see what was happening. The Voice of Gor got John Norman's attention and I communicated with him about it. I finally got burned out, and one of my editors took it over so the Voice of Gor has never truly stopped.

I had started out a scribe, a high caste person in Gor, because I lived to write. The newspaper just seemed to be a good outlet for me to write. It got the attention on real life publishers, the work that went to it, and the length of time I ran it, allows me to put it on my very real-life resume.

I had planned on running a series of articles in Roleplay Guide Magazine, that you had founded and were publishing Flipa, but your own personal tragedy, and the fact that I had burned out on SL with that intensive schedule, meant that those articles never come to pass. I still write for the Voice of Gor [which is the NEW VOICE OF GOR now] and you can see my weekly column in it. I am just no longer running it. (...)

The Student Librarian (A Jason & Mortyiene Mystery) (1) (Volume 1)

A journey to a mystical library deep in the heart of The Red Rock Desert proves deadly. Jason Littweiler, a young wizard, is assigned a case involving the murders of several guards, with the darkly beautiful Mortyiene, as his partner. Upon arriving at The Library, he befriends a library cat who helps him find his ways through the library and investigate the deaths of the guards. Despite his allergies to cats, he learns to rely upon her knowledge of The Library and its denizens. As the investigation unfolds, he learns that the murders are part of a deeper plan. Together they uncover a truth that influences the nature of the war itself. The trio discovers that the killer has motives more sinister than they can imagine.

04 THENTIS OR THE SOARING HERLIT: WHO HAS THE BLACKWINE?

8reprint "Voice of Gor" Volume 3 Issue 93, 03/23/2011]

by Verona Lorgsvaal

More bloody it seems than even the war between Ar and Tyros is the ongoing merchant war between Thentis and The Soaring Herlit, but of these cities have really good points, and both of them have their arguments.

We all know the quotes in the books about how rare and valuable black wine is. That men would pay gold for a single cup. That men were killed over it. Which means, as far as the books go, Thentis was like an African drug lord and black diamonds, or a Columbian drug lord and cocaine fields. However, when I journey to Rovere I am greeted with a warm friendly open city with fun and open Role-play, not a bleak blackwine consortium doing cavity searches and random house searches to find smuggled black wine.

However, let us consider this quote from Rogue of Gor.

"You may serve the black wine now, in small cups, Lola," said Miss Henderson. "Yes Mistress," whispered Lola.

This was a delicacy. I had purchased, some days ago, but we had not yet served it. In a few Ehn Lola returned with the tray, with the vessel of steaming liquid, the creams and sugars, the tiny cups and the small spoons for mixing and measuring.

-Rogue of Gor

In this passage we see that Jason has bought some black wine a few days ago. Though the passage does indeed make it clear that Black Wine is still a delicacy (shudders at the thought of life without three cups of coffee every morning) we pause to wonder how does a dock worker without a caste afford a package of black wine? When the earlier quotes have it costing in gold. At this time Jason has no gold he is barely scraping buy on hard work and a strong back. So the only conclusion is somewhere, somehow the city of Thentis must have lost it strangle hold on black wine, though still not common it has in fact become more affordable so even those without a caste are able to afford it occasionally.

The Soaring Herlit is located in the Thentis range which is part of the range that black wine would grow. Since John Norman has not named every city in Gor yet. After all in Tarnsman, Marlenus rallied the banners of over a hundred cities and even if he managed to rally to his banner ever city mentioned in the books from the red hunters to Schendi there would still be nowhere near one hundred cities.

Could The Soaring Herlit have black wine? Possible they are in the right region and somehow even stated in the books, the black wine cartel must have been broken. Should The Soaring Herlit have black wine, that must be decided between the current administration of Thentis and The Soaring Herlit.

As for my opinion, if Thentis raids The Soaring Herlit, kills every man woman and child in the city burns every building in the city, destroys the black wine fields and salts the fields, then Thentis has earned the right to be the sole supplier of black wine. However, they must also implement such a harsh Role-play environment to prevent anyone from stealing it in role-play including allowing one person and one person only to know its secret and have them sign contracts that their departure from Thentis will involve that characters death that it would be very hard to maintain a city. The role-play of The Soaring Herlit old before the current administration to ask a city to undo and declare invalid role-play that has been around for longer than the current administration is asking a lot.

I would like to see again Thentis the controller of Black Wine, and I would support Thentis taking back control. But now it must be done In Game. Raid The Soaring Herlit, conduct a massacre destroy the building in role-play and the fields, and then you will have your black wine back.

06 WAITING HAND RITUAL

Pious Goreans!

The Feast of En'Kara approaches, but still, before it, the solemn week of the Waiting Hand provides to everyone of us a time for reconciliation, meditation and mourning for the ones we have lost over the years.

On Sunday, March 16th, 1 PM SLT the Ritual of the Waiting Hand shall be conducted at the Temple of the Gorean Campus. During the ritual public confessions and requests are permitted (and encouraged).

Runyn
High Initiate
Gorean Campus Faculty

From Players of Gor, Chapter 1:

"The Waiting Hand, the five-day period preceding the vernal equinox, the first day of spring, is a very solemn time for most Goreans. During this time few ventures are embarked upon, and little or no business is conducted. During this time most Goreans remain within their houses. It is in this time that the doors of many homes are sealed with pitch and have nailed to them branches of the brak bush, the leaves of which have a purgative effect. These precautions, and others like them, are intended to discourage the entry of ill luck into the houses.

In the houses there is little conversation and no song. It is a time, in general, of mourning, meditation and fasting. All this changes, of course, with the arrival of the vernal equinox, which, in most Gorean cities, marks the New Year."

07 [OOC] GAY GOR [SCHEDULE]

Slaves of Gor, Kajuralia is coming Saturday March 15! You have 9 days to prepare to harass the free!

Annual festival of slaves, Kajuralia is celebrated once a year in most Gorean cities at one of two different moments. The first chosen date for Kajuralia is the last day of the twelfth passage hand. The other common date which is used by the city of Ar among others, is the last day of the fifth month of the year which is the day preceding the Love Feast. The only city which is said not to celebrate Kajuralia is Port Kar though we are not told specifically why that is.

The Kajuralia, or Holiday of Slaves, or Festival of Slaves, occurs in most of the northern, civilized cities of known Gor once a year. The only exception to this that I know of is Port Kar, in the delta of the Vosk. The date of the Kajuralia, however, differs. Many cities celebrate it on the last day of the Twelfth Passage Hand, the day before the beginning of the Waiting Hand; in Ar, however, and certain other cities, it is celebrated on the last day of the fifth month, which is the day preceding the Love Feast."

Assassin of Gor, 17:229

"This Holiday of Slaves is a time when slaves play pranks upon Masters and Mistresses and are generally granted more patience than usual. A number of scenes of Kajuralia can be found in Assassin of Gor, where in the city of Ar, Tarl Cabot and others falls prey to the pranks of slaves on the streets of Ar and within the walls of the house of Cernus. From the mixing of salt into porridge to the kidnapping, roping and use of free men as serving slaves for a few hours, slaves will, on this day, take their chances with the understanding that they remain at the mercy of those they chose to prey on and that this apparent leniency lasts but a day.

"KAJURALIA!" CRIED THE slave girl hurling a basket of Sa-Tarna flour on me, and turning and running. I had caught up with her in five steps and kissed her roundly, swatted her and sent her packing.

"Kajuralia yourself!" I said laughing, and she, laughing, sped away.

About that time a large pan of warm water splashed down on me from a window some sixteen feet above the street level. Wringing wet I glared upward. I saw a girl in the window, who blew me a kiss, a slave girl. "Kajuralia!" she cried and laughed. I raised my fist and shook it and her head disappeared from the window. A Builder, whose robes were stained with thrown fruit, hastily strode by. "You had better be indoors," said he, "on Kajuralia."

Assassin of Gor, 17:223

REWARD - DEAD OR ALIVE

A messenger arrived at the HoY headquarters delivering this scroll, sealed and encrypted:

"On Monday night of this week a man with long dark hair, a small short beard around his jaw line and a patch of hair under his chin came to Olni and confronted, if that is a good word, the Ubar of Port Olni as he was leaving the small area after a spar match. The Ubar was talking to his Captain of the guards, Siri Emerald. We found out through his confession that he was from Port Salaria. He wants to kill Yuroki.

He confessed to using a lot of different weapons so I could not vouch for that..He is slender of body and dresses all in black...He usually has a Glaive on that looks like a Q-tip with spikes on the ends encrusting it. I have never seen this glaive and I watch weapons obsessively. It is quite unusual."

The House of Yuroki Companies will pay for this man DEAD OR ALIVE.

TWENTY GOLD TARN

His name is unknown but the description is very accurate:

ADDENDUM:

[09:20:07] Διμήτρηου Σ SKYTOWER Διμήτρηου Σ SKYTOWER from the ferry he sailed, toward the destination in hand. Information may have been scarce, but it was information he still hand. Without a word he would pull the small boat along side the larger one, and proceed to clip the nets, climbing from the side fo the ship to the main deck, clear up the mast to the vulture's row. From there he climbed over to the pulley, and then to the top of the building where that opening was. He shimmied himself passed that and then into the office, clinging to the shadows calmly and then headed inside where the man was seemingly sleeping. He had a contract on this man himself, but instead of carrying it out, he would simply place a dagger on the fool's desk, and then leave the wanted poster on the desk jammed into it with a single message to him. "Challenge accepted."

[09:28:26] Διμήτρηου Σ SKYTOWER Διμήτρηου Σ SKYTOWER once that was done, he would simply head back out the same way he came in, diving off of the side of the building to the water below, and swimming back to his boat, before the beasts became akin to his presence in their dwelling. Once he was secured back in his boat, he would simply sail himself back off toward his next destination further down the vosk.

The base unit of exchange rates are the coins of the city of Tharna.

NEW The HoY bank accepts and converts coins from the City of Victoria (1:1)

The gold tarn disk of Ar is considered to be the standard by which other cities, such as Ko-Ro-Ba and Port Kar. set the value of their own coinage. It is worth, generally, 10 silver tarsks, but standardization is slight due to the shaving or splitting of the coin as well as faulty scales that contribute to the debasing of the coinage. 23 MARCH OF CAMBREADTH

By Heather Alexander (1997)
(taken from the Vonda Voice vol. 1, issue 1, 23/06/2009)

Axes flash, broadsword swing,
Shining armour's piercing ring
Kaila run with polished shield,
Fight Those Bastards till They Yield
Midnight mare and blood red roan,
Fight to Keep this Land Your Own
Sound the horn and call the cry,
How Many of Them Can We Make Die!

Follow orders as you're told,
Make Their Yellow Blood Run Cold
Fight until you die or drop,
A Force Like Ours is Hard to Stop
Close your mind to stress and pain,
Fight till You're No Longer Sane
Let not one damn cur pass by,
How Many of Them Can We Make Die!

Guard your women and children well,
Send These Bastards Back to Hell
We'll teach them the ways of war,
They Won't Come Here Any More
Use your shield and use your head,
Fight till Every One is Dead
Raise the flag up to the sky,
How Many of Them Can We Make Die!

Dawn has broke, the time has come,
Move Your Feet to a Marching Drum
We'll win the war and pay the toll,
We'll Fight as One in Heart and Soul
Midnight mare and blood red roan,
Fight to Keep this Land Your Own
Sound the horn and call the cry,
How Many of Them Can We Make Die!

Axes flash, broadsword swing,
Shining armour's piercing ring
Kaila run with polished shield,

25 ISFAHAN

In the remote Voltai Ranges, lies Isfahan, an exotic city in the far east at the northern edge of the Tahari. Isfahan's dark-skinned masters want new citizens and slaves to add to their diverse culture. We invite new citizens of any race.

Isfahan is a no-raid-city. It's new but growing. Housing is available for permanent residents at no cost.

A member of the Southern Trade Alliance, Isfahan is in contact with many other sims for trade RP.

Isfahan is high in tolerance and low in rules.

Feel free to visit at any time and be welcome. If you would like to discuss joining, contact Duryodana-Khan (Jerome Ferina).

25 AGRHI (BTB)

Agrhi is on the southern border of the Northern Forests. Glossu Albans laid a Homestone, something small for himself and those close. Soon, it became a thriving village filled with trade and has continued to grow as more people join. As there is a mixing from both north and south, It follows the southern caste system with many northern influences.

We are currently growing and are accepting all roles and timezones. We encourage you to stop in and check us out...see if you feel we are a good fit. Worst case senario...you have some good roleplay. Best case you may have found a new home.

Raids happened in Gor and we get that. However, we very much follow in line with the books. Agrhi is a trade port and is largely neutral. Find a roleplay reason that makes sense and we will happily follow the story line and raid.

OOClly, we value each and every one of our players. Though someone plays a role...we do not allow people to push those boundaries OOCly. We never treat a slave less than the admin ... unless we are in RP...and then expect to be treated as any Gorean slave might. We have hit a balance of low drama between members and would like to keep it that way.

KNOWLEDGE

27 KAJURALIA

"The Festival of Slaves" it is held in most Gorean cities (except Port Kar, where it is not celebrated at all) on the last day of the twelfth Passage Hand (March 15th). In Ar, it is celebrated on the last day of the fifth month (August 12th), the day which precedes the Love Feast. Upon this day, slaves may take liberties which are otherwise not permitted them during the year, including the drinking of wine and liquor, the freedom to roam at will (provided of course they do not attempt to escape from their owners permanently), the freedom to choose their own sexual partners and to couch with slaves of the opposite sex whom they find attractive, temporary suspension of all work and duties, and even the opportunity to play (minor) After the twentieth ahn, however, they are expected to be back in their respective kennels and slave quarters to resume the services required by their imbonded status; slaves who "go renegade" during Kajuralia are typically punished severely if recaptured, and are often executed for such an offense.

Quotes:

The Kajuralia, or the Holiday of Slaves, or Festival of Slaves, occurs in most of the northern, civilized cities of known Gor once a year. The only exception to this that I know of is Port Kar, in the delta of the Vosk. The date of the Kajuralia, however, differs. Many cities celebrate it on the last day of the Twelfth Passage Hand, the day before the beginning of the Waiting Hand; in Ar, however, and certain other cities, it is celebrated on the last day of the fifth month, which is the day preceding the Love Feast.

-Assassin of Gor - pg. 229

He put forth his goblet but, suddenly, unexpectedly, she drew back the pitcher.

"What is the meaning of this?" he cried.

"Kajuralia!" she laughed.

"Will you not serve me?" asked Relius in anger.

Virginia Kent, to my amazement, put aside the pitcher of wine.

"I would serve you," she said, and put her hands behind his neck and suddenly pressed her lips, to the delight of those present, boldly to his.

"Kajuralia," she whispered.

"Kajuralia," mumbled he, closing his arms upon her, devouring her.

-Assassin of Gor - pg. 239

"Kajuralia!" cried the slave girl hurling a basket of Sa-Tarna flour on me, and turning and running. I had caught up with her in five steps and kissed her roundly, swatted her and sent her packing.

"Kajuralia yourself!" I said laughing, and she, laughing, sped away.

About that time a large pan of warm water splashed down on me from a window some sixteen feet above the street level. Wringing wet I glared upward.

I saw a girl in the window, who blew me a kiss, a slave girl. "Kajuralia!" she cried and laughed. I raised my fist and shook it and her head disappeared from the window.

A Builder, whose robes were stained with thrown fruit, hastily strode by. "You had better be indoors," said he, "on Kajuralia."

This was the evening of Kajuralia.

There was much hilarity in the hall of the House of Cernus, and, though it was early in the evening, Paga and full-strength Ka-la-na were flowing.

Ho-Tu threw down his spoon in disgust, grinning at me wryly.

His gruel had been salted to the point of being inedible; he flared disgustedly down at the wet mash of porridge and salt.

"Kajuralia, Master," said Elizabeth Cardwell to Ho-Tu,

28 MARKINGS OF A GOREAN BLACK CASTE MEMBER

(reprint "Voice of Gor" Volume 3 Issue 93, 03/23/2011

by Sahiela Lavendel

For the non Black Caste member there is certain knowledge that every Gorean would know about a Black Caste member and they are the outward signs of employment a Black Caste member uses:

1. If the BC is on an assassination mission, he will wear a tattoo like black dagger on his forehead. If this is the case, city guards may not under any circumstance refuse him entrance to their city. To do so would be to not only bind all other Black Caste into avenging this, but also the Black Caste could ban the city itself and no one of the city would be able to use their services thereafter.
2. The Black Caste member is wearing a Gold Slash on the left temple of helmet, hat or Turban. This BC is acting as a messenger and has total diplomatic immunity under Merchant Law. While wearing the Gold Slash, he is not interested in fighting or killing anyone. His goal is to deliver his message. For either the recipient or anyone else to kill or stop this BC member is not only an absolute violation of Merchant law, to do so would create a vendetta within the whole of the Black Caste against that city or person. It would also dishonor whoever did so and their city.
3. The BC member has neither Black Dagger nor Gold Slash showing. This member is open for hire. He also would not be afforded any of the privileges he would have while otherwise "on duty".

Quotes to Validate the above from "Assasin of Gor":

Yet none would stand in the way of Kuurus for he wore on his forehead, small and fine, the sign of the black dagger.

When he of the Caste of Assassins has been paid his gold and has received his charge he affixes on his forehead that sign, that he may enter whatever city he pleases, that none may interfere with his work.

Kuurus, of the caste of Assassins, entered the great gate of Ar. Guardsmen did not detain him, for he wore on his forehead the mark of the black dagger.

"For whom do you wear on your forehead the mark of the black dagger?" queried Portus discreetly.

"May I ask," inquired Cernus, "for whom you wear on your forehead the mark of the black dagger?"

I would speak of these things, to some extent, with Cernus for it was important, though perilous, that he should understand what purported to be my mission. It was now time that certain things should be revealed, that they might leak into the streets of Ar.

They stopped playing. The slave girls in Pleasure Silk turned and stood stock still, the Paga flasks cradled over their right forearms. Not even the bells locked to their left ankles made a sound. Not a paga bowl was lifted nor a hand moved. The men looked at the Assassin, who regarded them, one by one. Men turned white under that gaze. Some fled from the tables, lest, unknown to themselves, it be they for whom this man wore the mark of the black dagger.

There are few men who have done great wrong or who have powerful, rich enemies who do not tremble upon learning that one has been brought to their city who wears the dagger.

I had removed the livery of the black caste and had washed the sign of the dagger from my forehead.

There I had once more donned the black of the Assassin. There, once more, I had affixed on my forehead the mark of the dagger.

"The killer?" said Cernus, his voice breaking.

I said nothing.

"You are Tarl Cabot!" he cried. "Tarl Cabot of Ko-ro-ba!"

"I am Kuurus," I told him.

"You wear upon your forehead the mark of the black dagger," whispered Cernus.

"It is for you," I told him.

They would on the whole be as much for hire as the Assassins, save that the Assassin, once the dagger has been painted on his forehead, signaling he is hunting, is loyal to a fee.

Swordsmen of Gor Book 29 Page 244

Messenger:

I dyed my hair black and acquired the helmet and gear of an Assassin. Across the left temple of the black helmet I fixed the golden slash of the messenger.

Tarnsman of Gor Book 1 Page 176

I wore the garb of the Caste of Assassins, and on the left temple of the black helmet was the golden slash of the messenger.

Tarnsman of Gor Book 1 Page 192

I had expected to be fired on immediately but suddenly remembered that I still wore the garb of the messenger. No Assassin would fire on me, and no one else would dare.

ABOUT THE NEW VOICE OF GOR

(OOC) FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTION

Is the NEW VOICE OF GOR OOC or IC?

This newspaper is available IN CHARACTER at message boards in several cities. But it has OOC parts and IC parts which can be identified although many people mix both. We try to keep the two separate. But if you start a storyline based on an IC article of the NEW VOICE OF GOR it would be useful for a moderator to have a log where you have read the message ICly.

The NEW VOICE OF GOR can be true or false, propaganda or journalism like on earth. There is no freedom of the press on Gor. Why let the truth get in the way of a good story?!

"Goreans were not always fooled by posts on boards.
Those who control the public boards, it is said, control the city.
But I was not sure of this.
Goreans are not stupid.
It is difficult to fool them more than once. They tend to remember."
(Magicians of Gor)

Why is "publicare et propagare" the motto of the NEW VOICE OF GOR?

You all know that Goreans use message boards to spread news, announcements and gossip. Such are found at various points in Ar, such as the vicinity of squares and plazas, near markets, and on major streets and avenues.

Books are rare on Gor and expensive. Paper is the essential trade good of the Rencers and they sell their wares on both the eastern and western edges of the Delta of the Vosk river. The NEW VOICE OF GOR is a collection of renece paper scrolls but the editor paid some message boards too to spread the newspaper. Gorean Public Boards sometimes made people angry. Those who control the public boards, it is said, control the city.

We took our motto from the Acta Diurna [latin: Daily Acts sometimes translated as Daily Public Records] on earth. The Acta Diurna were daily official notices in ancient Rome, a sort of daily gazette. They were carved on stone or metal and presented in message boards in public places like the Forum of Rome.

Acta Diurna introduced the expression "publicare et propagare", which means "make public and propagate". This expression was set in the end of the texts and proclaimed a release to both Roman citizens and non-citizens.
